BOTH SIDES

OF THE QUESTION OF AN EXTRA SES-SION OF CONGRESS.

The Inter-State Commerce Commission-Names Mentioned in Connection Therewith-Petitions and Personals.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.) Washington, February 28.—Not-withstanding the declarations of Sena-ters Allison and Edmunds and the opinions of some members of the House it ssion will be a necessity. But in rder to prevent it more progress must be made in the appropriation measures than has been made to-day. If sil other arrangements fail some such sction as was foreshadowed by Mr. logers, of Arkansas, will be taken at the last moment—the appropriations for the present year will be extended.

On the other side of the question is the express declaration a moment ago of Senator Beck, leading Democrat on the Senate Appropriations Committee, that an extra session is inevitable. He says that the House Appropriations Committee will not agree to the neces-sary conferences; that they have refused to give up private dimers and other amusements to attend to the public business, although themselves responsible for the delay. His statement borne out by the remarks of Democrats made in the House to-day. The great trouble is the rivalry between the appropriations Committee and the committees on whom have de olved some of the duties formerly disbarged by the Appropriations Com

The claim for identity had dragged its slow coil brough three years of diplomatic core-pendence without redress. It was e that the American Minister should sake an earnest and vigorous demand or restitution, and that was the view taken of the subject by the late Minister Jackson. He intimated that that had been one of the causes of Jackson's Mr. Jackson believed that American citizens had been imprisoned and shamefully robbed of their property in a Mexican port, and that the robery had been committed with the aid and pretended authority of the local

Mr. Holman, of Indiana, asked unanimous consent that the reading of the Journal be dispensed with, but Mr. Brady, of Virginia, interposed an ob-

Mr. Butterworth, in the course of his remarks, especially condemned the committee for what he called a cheese paring system of economy, on which the pill was framed, and instanced the case of the civil-service commission pro ision, for which it had been cut down below the amount absolutely indispen sable for the discharge of its dutie He accused the Democratic party of endeavoring to destroy the civil-service reform law by indirection, which it was afraid to do directly.

Mr. Cabell, of Virginia, placed the blame of the backward condition of the pending bill upon the House itself, and declared that the responsibility did not rest on the Committee on Appropria-

Mr. Randall said that it had become the fashion to blame the Committee on Apprepriations for delaying and interfering with legislation and with doing this, that, and the other. It was always very nice to have some one else to blame. The committee did not merit the criticisms directed against it. The bill was then read by paragraphs for amendments.

Mr. Blanchard, of Louisiana, raised a point of order against the words "in full compensation" in the appropriating lause of the bill. A long and uninte resting discussion ensued and lasted for nearly two hours, when the Chair submitted the point of order to the deci sion of the committee. The committee decided—165 to 24—that the point was well taken, and the words were stricker from the bill. A point of order was raised against an appropriation for th salaries of a couple of clerks of the House, being a reduction in their sala The point was overruled, and Mr. Felton, of California, appealed from the decision of the Chair. After the recess the House, after the turmoil of the noisiest and most con fusing day of the present session, pro-ceeded to the consideration of resolutions expressive of regret at the demise of Representative Cole, of Maryland, and honoring his memory. The reso-Intions were unanimously adopted.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the legislative appro priation bill. There seemed to be a strong disposition to overrule the Com-mittee on Appropriations, and despite the earnest protests of Mr. Holman, who warned the Democrats that instead of retrenching expenditures they were entering upon an extravagance o appropriations unknown since 1873, number of amendments were adopted increasing the salaries of several of the House officials. Matters then ran along with comparative smoothness, though amid much confusion and hilarity, and no hitch occurred until the clause relative to the Civil-Service Commission was reached, when, upon a point of or-der, the provision that the appropria-tion for the commission shall not be available until the rule excluding from examination applicants over forty-five years of age shall be abolished was ruled out. THE HILL CITY.

(Special telegram to the Dispatch.) LYNCHBURG, VA., February 28 .- One of the largest and most destructive fire with which this city has been visited for several years occurred between 3 and 4 o'clock yesterday morning. It originated in a bar-room kept by W. Bradshaw, on Main near Twelfth street, and totally destroyed several buildings. The buildings were all old frame structures, but were located in a section of the city that made the fire extremely dangerous to a thickly-populated section. The fact that they were filled with liquors, hay, grain, &c. rendered the situation all the more critical. The fire department worked with a vim, and succeeded in saving the more valuable buildings in the neighborhood.

The buildings consumed were Bradshaw's saloon, the Hill-City livery stables, with all of their contents, including carriages, fifteen horses, feed, &c. (owned by Mrs. R. J. Lacy and occupied by Biggers, Meneafee & Hiden); Harwood's feed store, with all of his stock (building owned by W. W by Mrs. R. J. Lacy). W. C. Williams's hvery-stable was damaged to the esti-mated amount of $750. Biggers, Meneafee & Hiden were insured for $2,000. Their loss will probably exceed this by $2,000. One thousand dollars was in the Germania and $1,000 in the Phonix of London. R. J. Lacy was insured for $1,000 in the Scottish Union and National and $1,000 in the Lion; W. W. Larkin. $1,000 in the Home Insurance Company of New York; Thomas M. Harv $800, in the London and Lancashire W. W. Bradshaw, $500, in the Virginia ire and Marine; W. C. Williams, $400 in the Virginia Fire and Marine and

$8(0 in two other companies. The brick building corner of Main and Twelfth streets was but slightly damaged, and is insured in the Liver peol and London and Globe for $5,000 Harvey Brightwell & Co., auctioneers. and Smith, Steptoe & Co., merchants, who were very slightly damaged, were both fully insured.

HEREIMER, N. Y., February 28.—
Precisely at 12 o'clock to-day the trap vas sprung and Mrs. Druse was hanged. The execution was attended with no sensational feature except what arose from her sex. It was conducted with due decorum in private, in the pres-ence of only twenty-five persons, pernitted by law to be present. Because the criminal was a woman great interest has attached to her case, but from that cause only. Her crime was one of phe-nomenal atrocity. She murdered her husband with every appearance of long premeditation, and to conceal her crime she cut the body into fragments and ourned them in the kitchen stove, the eremation occupying eight hours, keep-ing her little son and a hired boy busy carrying fuel. Her daughter Mary is now serving a life sentence for aiding it her mother's crime. Soon after the breaking out of the war he enisted as a private in the Fifty-fifth Massachusetts regiment of colored troops, and was promoted for acts of bravery on the battlefield until ne became a lieutenant. Upon his re turn to civil life he was appointed and filled for eighteen years the position of assistant superintendent of the registered-letter department in the Boston post-office. From this position he was retired in 1884 on account, it is said, of his independence in politics and his avowed purpose of supporting Cleve-land. The Mexican Government, while denying that the utrance of the Rebecca into Tampic was enforced by any stress of weath has taken the position that the judg ment of the courts ordering the sale of the vessel is final and conclusive especially as the master and owners failed to take an appea from the judgment so rendered to another court, as it is contended might have been done. This Department has contested and denied the doc-

The corre-pondence in the case of the Rebecca is still open and proceeding, and it is not believed that its publication at presnt would be compatible with the pubic interest." In respect to the Jackson matter the

In an interview to-day Governor Wil-son made known his appointee to fill the vacancy in the United States Senate made by the failure of the Legislature to elect a senator to succeed Senator amden, whose term expires on the 3d of March. In accordance with public expectation Hon. Daniel B. Luc Charlestown, Jefferson county, is the appointee. Senator Lucas was born at the place where he now lives on March 16, 1836. He was educated at the University of Virginia, graduating in most of the academical studies, and leaving the University in 1856. He took an active part in the campaign against the Know-Nothings, though not quite twenty-one at the time, and was selected as the Democratic canvasser of his county He graduated in law at Brockenbrough' Law School in Lexington, Va., i 1858, and commenced the practic of law at Charlestown, but is of law at Charlestown, but in 1860 he moved to Richmond, Va. when, on the breaking out of the war, he volunteered on the staff of General Wise, and was his private secretary being with him in his campaign in th Kanawha Valley. He returned to Richmond in the fall of 1861 and practiced law there. At the close of the war he removed to Charlestown and went into partnership with Thomas C. Green, Esq., the now associate judge of the Court of Appeals of this State, but was not permitted to practice law till February, 1867, owing to the bar of the mously nominated as an elector on the Greeley ticket by the Democratic Convention of the Second congressional ticket. He canvassed the whole district, making speeches in Ke publican strongholds where it was con sidered dangerous to do so. In 1876 and 1884 he was again appointed elector and was elected both times. In 1884 he was elected to the Legislature, and was reelected in 1886. In 1876 he was appointed regent of the West Virginia University by Governor Mathews, and was reappointed by Governor Jack-son. In 1878 has was unanimously elected professor of law in the State University, but declined In 1880 he was appointed judge of the udicial district by Governor Mathews to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Judge Hoge, but de-clined. (By telegraph to the Dispatch.) NEW YORK, February 28.-At 6:20 this morning fire broke out on Pier 37, North river, owned by the Morgan Line Steamship Company and used as discharging pier for freight. The total loss is from $350,000 to $400,000. The fire originated on board the lighter Lorena, which was moored at the extreme end of the dock. The watch man saw the smoke issuing from the centre of a pile of cotton on the Lorena and started to give an alarm. There was no one on the pier at the time, and before the watchman reached the alarm-box the cotton on board the lighter was blazing furiously and dense clouds of smoke were blown into the sheds. By the time the firemen arrived the pier was ablaze. On the north side of the pier was the steamer Lone Star, which collided with the steamer Wells City a few weeks ago, and on the south side was the steamer City of New York. Between the ington pier, on the south side, and the Guion pier, on the north side, there were moored eight lighters loaded with cotton—namely, the Anderson, Ritter, Morgan, Jesse Cart, Whicox, White, Faton, and a lighter belonging to the New Jersey Lighterage Company. The wind was blowing a furious gale in a northeasterly direction, and as the cotton on the pier caught fire the smoke filled the street so that it was impossible to see any distance. The blaze was beating down on the steamer Lone Star, and it was only a few minutes before that steamer was on fire. A fire patrol boat made several attempts to get the steamer out from the fire, and was compelled to call assistance. It was low tide, and she was grounded. Three of the Pennsylvania Railroad Com-pany's tugs helped the patrol, and at last the Lone Star was towed out into mid-stream and streams of water played on her. She was towed over to the Guttenburg shore and left in charge of two tugs. She is almost totally de-stroyed. She was built twelve years ngo, cost $223,000, but has depreciated

Given Last Evening by the Gasann. verein Virginio.

This German society gave one of their monthly entertainments hat evening. It was a masquerade ball, and a beautiful and most successful occasion it was. It was given at Sanger Hail, and Mr. Charles Seigel in the banquet gave but another evidence of his ability as a caterer.

In so large a humber of characters it would be difficult to do them all justice. Yet the recipionts of the prizes as awarded by the committee were: First, Missee Bicomer and Beckmann; second, Mess Lona Thilow; third, Mr. Louis Werner. The committee had great difficulty among so many excellently portrayed characters to give the just awards, so they give honorable mention to Mr. A. Volkman and to the three clewus. in value. The loss on her will proba-bly be about $100,000; no insurance.

The steamer City of New York was towed out of danger and suffered no damage. About 4,000 bales of cotton were burned—1,500 on the dock and 2,500 on the barges. Fire-Chief McGill and twelve of his men and one dockwatchman were cut off from escape shoreward by the fire, and were about to risk their chances swimming when a tug discovered them and took them from the outer end of the dock.

New Place Suggested for Their Temporary Location.

Besides the rooms at the Ballard House and the old Virginia Opera-House, on Ninth street, already mentioned in that connection, the States authorities have inspected the Grant house, on the east side of Twelfth street between Marshall and Clay, with a view of possibly locating the courts and some other Federal offices there. It was reported on the streets yester day that this place had been selected but Marshal Scott said to a Dispatch reporter that that was not the fact.
The location is a pleasant one, and the rooms are spacious and quite well-arranged for the uses to which they are to be put if decided upon. The rental charged is moderate.

If not the Grant house one of the other locations here named will doubt-less be accepted, and that soon, as the Danville Company, it is stated, is anxious to get their offices back here

There is no body-snatching nowadays for the Richmond Medical College. They are entitled by law to get the unclaimed bodies of paupers and convicts, and can thus secure, free of charge, all the subjects they wish.
So the suspicions against Chris. are ill-founded, so far, certainly, as our college is concerned. The same is true as regards the medical department of Peanut Markets.

[By telegraph to the Dispatch.]

New York, February 28.—The week opened on the Stock Exchange with a dull and genarally weak market, in which the professional element was most conspicuous. The features affecting values were about evenly divided, but the bears again became aggressive, although the results of their operations are small. They aid considerable stress to-day upon the probability of an extra session of Congress and depreciating the bank reserves. The former still centinues as a bar to speculation. In the unlisted department the weakness of the cotton-seed oil trusts was extremely marked during the afternoon, but a better feeling existed during the afternoon, and a material recovery occurred. Several rumers of a contradictory nature were circulated in regard to the trusts, but the announcement of the formation of an opposition company is believed to have been most potent in bringing about a decline. The declines in the general market were for fractions only, and, in most cases, were entirely recovered. There was no special feature, and the course of prices was the same throughout the general list. This market opened rather heavy at declines of ½ a from Saturday's closing. Business was the same throughout the general list. This market opened rather heavy at declines of ½ a from Saturday's closing. Business dayiet, and while there were few slight advances early, the entire list weakened quickly, and further declines of from ½ to ½ were established. The market then became dull, with insignificant fluctuations, though the general medicary was upward until moon, the improvement, however, being lost after that time. Before 1 P. M. a decidedly better feeling was developed and most of the early losses were recovered. There was a renewal of heaviness in the last hour, and the market closed bardy at 3 % per cent. [By telegraph to the Dispatch.] WASHINGTON, D. C., February 28, -Carroll D. Wright, Commissioner of Labor, has submitted to the Secretary of the Interior his wright, Commissioner of Lacor, and superinted to the Secretary of the Interior his second annual report, which relates entirely to the subject of convict labor.

The report is based on information collected in pursuance of the joint resolution of Congress approved August 2, 1886. The investigation conducted by the Bureau has reached all the penal institutions of all grades in the several States and Territories and the District of Columbia, in which the inmates are in any degree employed in productive labor.

The report states that it is perfectly evident from the information obtained that the competition arising from the employment of convicts as far as the whole country is concerned would not of itself constitute a question worthy of serious discussion. However, locally and in certain industries, says the report, the competition may be serious and of such proportions as to claim the most serious attention of the legisatures.

Commissioner Wright discusses at considerable length the advantages and disadvantages of various systems and plans suggested as a solution of the convict-taken problem, and arrives at the conclusion that hand-labor under the public account system is on the whole the best suggested.
